ABILITIES

This duo is composed of musical background, trumpet, which is a monophonic instrument and voice. Is to establish a link between such elements, and reach a different loudness, developing and exploiting the qualities that may have this mixture of elements, or, to be able to enter the same in the music to listen to, or in the popular dance music, which is a more modern product and variable.

The trumpet melody makes the function, is the exponent companion in vivo, recreating each exposure, interact with the voice, which is the main source of each presentation.

Hearing the result, displays a discreet music, but complete, due to the background music that fills the orchestration of a piece in vivo, and that is defended and starring the trumpet and the voice, which comes to the fore
